

Rabbits

Rabbits! Come out today,
Rabbits! Come out today.
We all want to see you play,
So rabbits come out today.

Rabbits do anything.
Some nibble pages
Some stay in cages.
But they are all the same
And, most have no name.

Some dig underground,
Others muck around.
Some are white some are brown
some have different colours all around.

Some like to run around others want to lie around.
Their eyes are small
as round as balls,
Some have facial expressions,
Others have secret possessions.

Rabbits! Please come out today,
We all want to see you play.
So rabbits, please, please....
Come out today!!

WRITTEN BY RISHIKESH GANDHEWAR
Age 9
Cardiff, Wales, United Kingdom

AND

ALFRED GOWER
Age 11
Cardiff, Wales, United Kingdom

ILLUSTRATED BY ISABELLA GIANATIEMPO
Age 7
Martinez, California